e Takes the Children With Her and Writes Him a Represental Letter-Many Members of His Church Desert Him,

KINGSTON, N. Y., Nov. 20,-The Elmendorf Street Presbyterian Church is at present in a heap of trouble. Its handsome brick edifice is one of the finest places of worship in the city. and until a few months ago the congregation was united and prosperous. Internal dissenmany of the leading members severing their tendered his resignation. Three years ago the Rev. J. F. Hooper was selected as paster. He was young, and an able and eloquent prescher, Members of other churches flocked to hear him, and he was soon one of the most popular clergymen in this city. A year ago it was whispered about that the paster was cruelly treat-ing his handsome young wife. Four months ago the parents of Mrs. Hooper came to Kingston from their California home. The object of the visit was to take back their daughter, and only child, with them, they having been informed of her husband's cruel treatment. To this the dominie interposed an objection. The this the dominic interposed an objection. The father of Mrs. Hooper laid the matter before the church officers. Hearings were had, and the officers and members of the congregation took sides, some believing the statements of the pastor, and others that of his wife and her parents.

The dominic charged that it was a case of too much mother-in-law. He said he had always been true and faithful and were it not for the interference of his mother-in-law he could get along well with his wife. The couple had three children, to whom the father was greatly attached. When his wife decided to leave him he said the children must be left with him. They were, however, spirited away and the pastor was not permitted to see them. Both sides engaged lawyers. It was finally learned that Mrs. Hooper with her parents and children had gone to Palenville in the Catskills. As Mrs. Hooper had agreed to return the children to her husband, telegrams were sent asking when he might expect his little ones. He received this letter in reply:

Palenville Ang. 22, 1887.

Jonn: We arrived here safely on faday evening.

might expect his little ones. He received this letter in rejely:

Patrawnix Aug. 22, 1887.

John. We arrived here safely on Friday evening. Children all quite well. Upon more deliberate consideration and consultation with our friends. I am fully decided that I can never live with you again. The more I ponder over the cruel and unkind treatment I have received from you, and the abusive and low bred names by which you have called me, the more I can see no possibility of harmony existing between us in the future. You promised solemnly to love and cherish me, but the fear and dirend of you in which I have lived the last few years has rendered my life extremely inserable said years an endered would for bettlevelved and violence to my person, which would for bettlevelved a Texas cow boy than a minister of the liberal become a Texas cow boy than a minister of the liberal become a Texas cow by the property of the five of the liberal control of the liberal con am sure you should be convinced that retaining the children will never retain me. I write thus plainly that you may no longer decive yourself with a false hope. From Cassin.

Immediately after writing this letter Mrs. Hooper and the children started for California, and the pastor was unable to see or gain possession of any of them. In the meantime the divided congregation were at swords' points. Those in favor of the pastor held meetings and exonerated him of all charges, while those who were opposed to him endeavored to have a thorough investigation made of his case. Among these were five of the six elders of the thurch. Some of them appeared at the meeting of the Presbytery at Marltorough on Oct. 3, and the pastor held may be a produced to consult with the elders of the church. A committee was appointed consisting of the Rev. Z. Rearies of Newburgh, the Rev. Dr. Wheeler of Poughkeepsie and Laymen Smith of Poughkeepsie and Barnes of Middlehope. The committee has never met with the elders. On the other hand it is asserted that the two ministerial members of the committee others and this elix, held a consultation with Mr. Hooper, and then went to their homes. A few days later a letter was received from the Chairman of the committee saying the duties of the committee were finished. What they accomplished outside of a pleasure trip the elders of the church are anxious to know.

The next scene in the drama occurred on Sunday last, when at the close of his morning sermon Mr. Hooper said that after the regular prayer meeting on Thursday evening a congregational meeting would be held, when he would tender his resignation as pastor, and two elders in the places of George Schufeldt and James B. Robertson, who had resigned, would be elected. In his remarks. Mr. Hooper said:

"I tender my resignation with very great regret. You do not know how sore my heart is—how terribly it aches—how deeply it pains me that his has been made necessary by certain events. My feelings toward you are very, very tender. I never felt so deepl sway feeling very warmly toward you all. It is for the best interests of the church for me to leave."

He reviewed some disagreeable events. He spoke of doserted rooms at the parsonage, and of traces he still saw there of his children who had been taken from him. He said he felt sorry for persons who had been so inhumanly cruel as to slander him. He forgave them, and if he had done ill to them he hoped he would be forgiven. To-day Mr. Hooper did not occupy his pulpit, but on the first bunday in December he will preach his farewell sermon. He has accepted a call to a church in Harlem.

Within the past few weeks letters have been received from Oakland and other places in California reflecting upon the character of Pastor Hooper whon he was in that State in 1882. He was pastor of the Congregational church at Martinez, and became acquainted with a widow named Mrs. Eva Bisseil. She was an intelligent and cultivated lady of good standing, but not a professing Christian. He left the Martinez church and became pastor at Stockton, but often visited Mrs. Bisseil, to whom he was engaged. Meanwhile he became acquainted with Miss Carrie Case, the daughter of A. B. Case, a well-to-do merchant of Petaluma. This is the wife from whom he has just separated. He courted her and became engaged to her while yet engaged to Mrs. Bissell, the would visit one, and on the way home stop and visit the other. This state of things becoming known, he was found guilty of prevarication and exaggeration by a church council, and he was deposed from the papilit, He then married Miss Carse stonders and became pastor of the Reformed Church at Blue Mountains in this county. From the classis he was transferred to the Hudson River Presbytery in order to accept the call to the Presbyterian church in this county.
